Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by

For sale in Lexington, Missouri, by Westernman & Rankin and druggists everywhere.

HAD TO SEARCH HIS MEMORY

Successful Candidate for Municipal Honors Missed One Nationality Among His Supporters.

The Minneapolis Journal relates that Dr. Charles C. McIntyre of Denver said the other day in New York: "You have a mayoralty contest coming on here. Well, that reminds me of one of your former mayoralty contests, when the victor said to a friend:

"Ignacio, my boy, I was elected to the mayoralty by votes of eight nationalities—eight stanch nationalities voting for me, Ignacio, as one man."

"Who are they?" asked the other.

"They were," replied the mayor, "Italians, Germans, Irish, Polish, Russian, Greek, French and—and—"

"That's only seven. Go on," said the other.

"French and—French and," faltered the mayor; but, to save his life, he could not think of the eighth nationality that had elected him.

"As the mayor, with wrinkled brow, pondered and puzzled, his friend cried suddenly: 'By jingo, maybe it was Americans—that's it exactly! I couldn't think of 'em to save me.'"

THOSE SPRING POETS

First Poet—Let's see! Pegasus is supposed to be a horse, isn't he?

Second Poet—Yes, but I think my Pegasus must be an automobile.

First Poet—Why so?

Second Poet—Because about the time I try to speed it is sure to break down.

EXTENDING THE WIRELESS.

Apparatus has been ordered from the United States for the installation of a wireless station at San Pedro de Macoris, to be operated in connection with the wireless stations at Santo Domingo and La Romana. The wireless service is operated by the Dominican government and wireless messages are now being accepted for Europe and the United States. The latter being sent via La Romana to Guanica, Porto Rico, and thence to San Juan, Porto Rico.

SLIGHT PERSONAL PREJUDICE.

"Of course, you prefer peace to war?"

"Well, I realize the benefits of peace, but you must admit that there isn't much interest or excitement about it. You see I'm in the motion-picture business."

IRELAND'S FARMERS.

The 1,073,338 persons actively engaged in farm work in Ireland on June 1, 1912, constituted 24 per cent of the total population (4,390,219), according to the 1911 census. Of this number 819,503 were male and 262,735 females.

HIS LIFE WORK.

"Cholly certainly aims high in life."

"How so?"

"He's collecting cigarette coupons for an automobile."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

CAUTIOUS.

"They say that he has money to burn, but he is not starting any bonfires."

"No. He says that smoke hurts his eyes."

PLAN NEW DAM FOR NILE.

British colonial and military engineers are considering the construction of a dam across the Blue Nile, in the Soudan, to provide irrigation for nearly four million acres of land.

HASTY REMARK.

"I am not a belligerent," said the Mexican. "I am a musician."

"That makes your case worse," replied the Texas ranger. "You're a brass-bandist."

The Water Cure.

From The New York Sun.

It would be gratifying to us that The Sun's suggestion to administer the water cure to agitators had at last been adopted.

When the first window smashing occurred in London we suggested that a repetition of the incident should be managed by the fire department instead of the police. If this course had been adopted whenever screaming militants were put in jail their ardor would have been dampened sufficiently to render the wild women more docile.

Spanking was suggested by a correspondent. When insanity was regarded as cussedness in the olden time the douche was applied as a punitive agent. That this procedure when administered with a large hose under strong pressure would be quite as effective as spanking and not nearly so unaesthetic does not admit of doubt. It would prove a sure deterrent.

Militancy is a mild, perhaps more euphonious term for cussedness. Since these women are not treated like rational beings, but are held practically irresponsible for their acts, there is absolutely no reason why the douche, which is popular as a remedial agent though out of vogue as a punitive instrument in certain forms of mental aberration, would not answer a good purpose for the calming of excitement and toning up the depressed nervous system of the militant maniacs, or other agitators in contempt of law.

The warning gratuitously offered to the English authorities when the first manifestations of Pankhurst's disease appeared, that the cold douche, and if this were not effective, the other more stringent measures would alone prevent the development of more flagrant manifestations of this new disease, has not been heeded. The result has been disastrous. Why are these vicious creatures permitted to inveigle the authorities into a pusillanimous backing down from a management that is not administered for revenge or punishment, but for the purpose of repression and as a deterrent? Forced feeding is cruel. Since enthusiasm would seem the most ardently wished for fate of these agitators and wild women, there appears to be no justification for thwarting them by releasing to slash more valuable paintings, burn more fine houses, and desecrate the homes of God with their ranting.

The pusillanimity of the English prison authorities is quite beyond comprehension. No American sheriff will permit himself to be bulldozed or enjoined by a hunger striker.

The fire of prospective martyrdom would quickly die within a well soaked shivering lawbreaker on the street or in jail. Hope lies in the water cure.

Here's Your Snake Story.

One day last week Mrs. H. C. Graham, southeast of Odessa, went out to the chicken house on a hunt for eggs. Without looking she put a hand in a hen nest and to her astonishment touched a couple of blacksnakes which were feasting on the eggs. Mrs. Graham, being a brave woman, seized a club and waded into those reptiles with a vengeance. When killed and measured they were found to be seven and six feet long, respectively.—Odessa Democrat.
